Library Remodeling Would Cost $3,000

Elmo Hayden of the Menlo Camera Shop kept his light bulbs flashing at the Founders Day meeting of the Menlo Park PTA last week, as he was quite fascinated with the photogenic poshsibilities of the costumes that might well have adorned attendants of PTA meetings of many years ago. Standing, left to right, are Mr. Inez Porter, Mrs. John Blake, Mrs. Albert Ittner, Mrs. David Sullivan, Mrs. Nathan Koblick, Mrs. Louis Mattas, Mrs. OrionHurlbut, Mrs. Floyd Beach, Mrs. Carl Noller and Mrs. Oscar Olson. In the front row are the Messers R. E. Messini, Jack Glunz, George Walsh, Wallace Ott and Floyd Davidson. Mrs. Messini, for the occasion, impersonated Mrs. Alice McLelland Birney, who first thought of starting the "club for mothers". Behind her, in the prim and proper black, Mrs. Porter, teacher of Eighth Grade at Central, is dressed to represent Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst, who is better known as the PTA founder.

Another Location Being Considered

The problem of a location for the Menlo Park Branch of the County Library definitely had not been settled this week.

Remodeling of the liquor tavern building at 773 Santa Cruz avenue, which last week seemed the answer, will cost more than $3,000 contractors' estimates showed. Previous guesses were from $300 to $1,000.

However, a new location in a duplex on Menlo avenue between Crane and Chestnut Streets came to light. The duplex has 1,700 square feet of floor space, and would triple the size of the present quarters in the City Hall.

The owner will rent the building for $100 or $125 per month, and may agree to remodel the interior at the higher figure.

Remodeling of the duplex would be easier. The liquor tavern building has ceilings at different heights, causing construction problems if partitions were removed to make one large library room.

Also, plumbing at the liquor tavern would have to be replaced and the building would have to be rewired and repainted. The frame and stucco building is in No. Fire Zone, and too extensive a remodeling job would not be allowed without rebuilding the entire building.

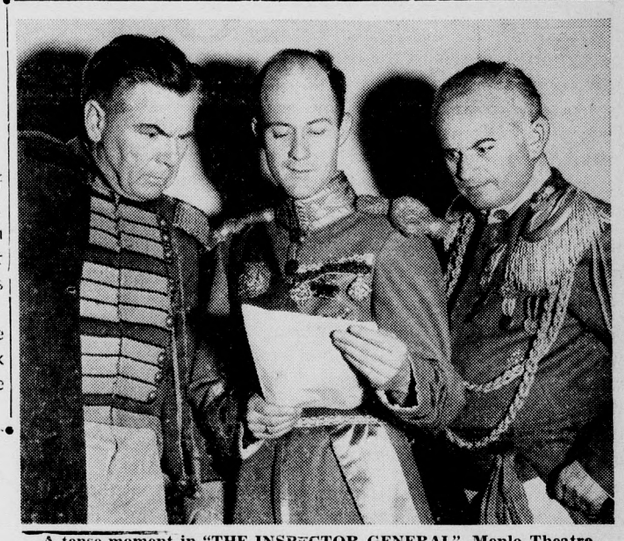

Steve Butler, member of the Library Committee, appointed by the City Council, had four contractors bid on the project. Two refused to make estimates and one who did said he didn't want the job.

The City Council had informally agreed to pay for the remodeling if it did not cost too much.

City Mgr. Cecil Longson said this week that the city could not afford to spend $3,000 and that he personally does not feel it is worthwhile to put that much public money into an old building owned by a private individual. It would be better, he contended, to use it for a new building.

Butler was negotiating Wednesday with the owners, Frank and Donald

Guild's Production Of Russian Play To Start Tonight

Enter the Ravenswood gate and turn to the right to arrive at the Stanford Village Theatre tonight to see "The Inspector General", the satirical farce by Nicolai Gogol. This latest production of the Menlo Players Guild will be presented tonight, tomorrow night, and Friday and Saturday evenings of next week. Curtain raises at 8:30.

Only there is no curtain! But the stage crew will be "in costume", fitting well into the picture of the time, and will thereby make the absence of a curtain more than agreeable.

Robert C. Bettencourt, director of the Players Guild, is well pleased with last minute rehearsals. Everyone is expecting the full cast to give an excellent performance.

Tickets for any one of the four presentations of "The Inspector General" may be purchased at Preuss Pharmacy on El Camino or at the Stanford Village Store—ask for Miss Wilson.

Preview of the programs for this latest Guild production makes it certain that they are to be a delightful surprise.

West School To Be Located on Elder

Menlo JC Opens Huge Building Program By Breaking Ground on $100,000 Unit

Ground has been broken for the construction of a new Commons Building for Menlo School and Junior College at a cost of over $100,000. Facing McBain avenue and located midway between the School and College, the Commons is the first step in a building program designed to link the original campus site with the recently acquired Douglass Hall, which houses the Menlo School, according to William E. Kratt, president of Menlo School and Junior College.

The Commons, a one story building in contemporary style, will have an exterior finish of soft, bleached Redwood with light sage green trim. Seating approximately 400 the interior is completely free of supports in order to facilitate table arrangements. A folding partition will be installed so that the school and junior college divisions may be divided into separate dining rooms. Private dining rooms, located on an upper level at one end of the Commons room, will also be divided by folding partitions.

The kitchen will be modern and up-to-date, with complete facilities for cafeteria service. Ample ventilation, and special consideration for employee conveniences have been provided. A separate room has been designed for the bakery. Special facilities and locker rooms have been provided for student hashers. An additional wing will furnish storage facilities.

Proposed site of the new primary school in the Western area of the Menlo Park School District is on Elder avenue (formerly Maple avenue) between Santa Cruz and Valparaiso avenues.

Mel Homfeld, superintendent of school, is negotiating with heirs of the William Sharon estate for purchase of seven and one half acres.

Board members plan to begin construction of the new school as soon as the site is acquired and expect the plant to be ready by the beginning of the 1949-50 school year.

A survey conducted by Homfeld shows that 31 students now going to Central School and 80 going to Fremont live within a portion of the school district west of Hermosa Way. These 111 students would provide sufficient enrollment for a school in the area.

Condemnation proceedings also have been started to acquire a strip of land 100 by 600 feet adjoining the Fremont School playground.

KNOW YOUR MENLO MERCHANTS

When Pearl Marinoni was first married she "settled down" to keep house and, later, to raise her little daughter, but the call of the business world was too strong and she soon had her own shop in Menlo Park. She bought out Mrs. Marie Maloney who was then in the little store now occupied by Simpson's Barber Shop. She soon outgrew the small quarters and moved a few doors north on El Camino.

Pearl says she was practically born in business. Although the place of her birth was Cazzasa, in Northern Italy, she was still quite young when she worked in her father's store for men in Redwood City. Pearl was the eldest child in a large family and it was necessary for hed to help. But she graduated from Sequoia high school, taking the entire course in night classes. And she laughlingly recalls that many a night she had a "very bad time" with English Grammer.

Books and people have been Pearl's "hobbies" ever since she can remember, and she likes them both to be worthwhile. A little old lady of Menlo once said to her, "Pearl, you eat three times a day to feed your body; when you read you should read something that will feed your mind", and this Pearl believes to be true.

Pearl will be one of seven corsetieres of Northern California to receive prizes this year as the best corsetieres for the Charis Corset Company in Northern California.

The occasion will be a dinner and theatre party given by Charis on Monday night in San Francisco for its employees. As this company sells only through professional corsetieres Pearl's many customers come to her all the way from Burlingame to Red-

Menlo Park, Atherton Elections Are April 13

Councilmen Hayes, Church Seek Re-election

The Menlo Park and Atherton political pots began to simmer this week, as the time for filing of candidates for municipal positions rolled around.

The deadline for both filing of candidates and registration of voters is March 4, a week from next Thursday. The elections will be held April 13.

In Menlo Park, the terms of Councilmen Daniel Hayes and Edward Church expire and both are running for re-election. They were appointed to their posts in December when Councilmen Robert Rhodes and Carl Noller resigned.

Church is a resident of Felton Gables, a veteran of World War II, and at present agent superintendent of the Crum and Forester Fire Insurance Company in San Francisco.

Hayes is president of the Menlo Chamber of Commerce and owner of the Security Plumbing Supply Co. of San Francisco. He lives at 1036 Doyle Street.

Church and Hayes are the only persons who have taken out papers for filing, but two other men have been mentioned as possible candidates, Steve Butler, local realtor, and Clayton Elliott, local attorney.

Butler said this week he is considering running, and issued the following statement:

"I have been asked to run by civic groups, but haven't made up my mind to accept nomination as yet. Will render my decision at a later date. I am for long-range planning and everything that will benefit the majority of the people of Menlo Park."

Elliott said he was not interested in being councilman.

In Atherton, terms of Mayor J. B. Howell and Councilman Charles H. Merrill expire. Neither has taken out papers to file. Howell did not indicate whether or not he would run and Merrill said he hasn't decided as yet.

No other Atherton candidates have filed.

Two other Menlo Park positions which will be open are those of city clerk and city treasurer. Mrs. Frank Becker, clerk, and Mrs. Frances Maloney, treasurer, expect to run for re-election.

Voters may register with any of the following deputies: W. Howard Boren, Atherton city clerk, Atherton Town Hall. Mrs. Frank Becker, Menlo Park city clerk, Menlo Park City Hall. Frank S. Becker, 1235 Laurel street. Edward J. McLoughlin, Jr., 1755 Valparaiso avenue. Emma Noel, 1055 Doyle street. Florence Ohler, 1187 University Drive. Alvina Wipfler, 1034 Pine street.

Prevention

To learn the opinions that students at Sequoia High School formed as a result of "world government week," a poll was taken in the Basic Course classes last Tuesday and Wednesday, with the following results, as given to the Recorded. The three questions, with answers were:

(1) Can the United States preserve Peace by maintaining a strong armed force?
Yes 30%. No 66%. Undecided 4%.

(2) Should the UN have the power to enforce its decisions?
Yes 85%. No 12%. Undecided 3%.

(3) Should the UN be revised so as to be a federal world government?
Yes 71%. No 18%. Undecided 11%.

In every way possible the Student Federalists acquainted the student body at Sequoia with the problems facing world peace today, and with the need for world government. Student speakers visited 15 of the Basic Course teachers' classes. At two assemblies a skit describing the founding of the Student Federalist movement was presented, and members of the National Executive Council of United World Federalists spoke to one assembly and at a special Forum meeting.

We find these poll percentages most interesting. We wish the answers to questions 2 and 3 had been 100% YES. But even more do we wish that somebody really KNEW the answer to question No. 1.

Just reading this question brings up questions. How can we "preserve" (by any means) that which we do not have? There was a time when it was supposed that the alternative to War was Peace. No more! That antonym is antequated! The question might better have read, "Can the United States ward off War by maintaining a strong armed force?"

In this form the query has long been drawing the fire of opposing opinions in our democracy. And, naturally, both sides argue from a psychological viewpoint. Part of us say that maintaining strong armed forces will give the impression to the rest of the world that we are preparing to fight, which is not conducive to friendly relations between nations. And part of us say that maintaining strong armed forces will warn the aggressive countries that it would be suicide for them to attack us, which is not a happy thought for the totalitarian Communists.

One thing seems reasonable, that it is easier to work toward a state of World Peace when there is no "fighting war" going on. If strong armed forces can preserve a state of non-combat then maintaining them will be worth the price. It should not be too difficult to disband an army when the time comes that the United Nations, the World Federalists or some other form of FAIR PLAY gets into operation on a one-world basis.

There are always individual criminals in positions of power in every democracy—men who are willing to exploit their fellow mortals for selfish gains. This we must shamefully ackowledge and fervently deplore the while we feel thankful that high school children in San Mateo County are asked for THEIR opinions on the most important of governmental questions, and that all but 4% of them "thought" they knew the answers. Could this happen in the land of Stalin?

Washington

On February 22 this year the National Conference of Christians and Jews is opening its annual observance of American Brotherhood Week. It seems appropriate that Washington's birthday is the chosen date.

We think of the Father of our Country as the individual who first dedicated America to brotherhood, free from racial and social intolerances. Brotherhood Week is but a rededication to the principles of those forefathers. Brotherhood was a pattern for America's victory and peace in 1776 and will be the pattern for World victory and peace before these are ever fully established. The National Conference of Christians and Jews holds up the ideals of understanding and cooperation at home and abroad.

Our Retailers

Housewives are frequently told that THEY can control commodity prices by curtailing their purchases. If the women would get together—agree on their boycotts, they certainly could make an impression. Perhaps without conscious collusion their actions have precipitated the recent price declines.

But when it comes to cutting down food purchases the resulting loss is apt to fall on the retail merchants who have not been responsible for the high prices. Retail profits for all types of food stores are low, at a time when overhead expenses have been going up as the inevitable result of higher wages and high rents.

While the small business merchant may make a good profit on the few items that represent the ultimate in luxury, the margin of profit for the necessities has long been low for the retailer. The retail stores of Menlo Park are certainly doing all they can to meet competition. Their prices are fair and compare well with those of neighboring communities for the same quality merchandise. We can all help them to give us even better values by doing our shopping in Menlo Park.

Your City's Business

By CHARLES P. BURGESS

Last Friday night several members of our Planning Commission attended a talk in Palo Alto by L. Deming Tilton, city planning expert. Tilton covered various problems encountered in city planning, and later answered questions from the floor. One of these was as to the relative desirability of the "shoestring" or "retangular" commercial development. Tilton replied that neither constituted modern practise. Then he described what he considered to be a model shopping center. It was a large block with the interior devoted to parking space. Stores lined the perimeter of the block. Tilton pointed out that 85 per cent of the shopping is done by women. Women dislike crossing streets. In such a shopping center as he described, the shopper would drive into the central parking area, leave the car, go into an adjacent store by way of the rear entrance, and then never leaving the sidewalk (except to cross the entrance-ways into the parking area) have access to stores on all four sides of the block. We from Menlo Park smiled broadly, for this description fits our parking plaza now under construction in the El Camino-Oak Grove-Chestnut-Santa Cruz block to a "T".

Tilton dwelt at some length upon a problem that seems to be common to most planning commissions; so much time is spent hearing petitions for rezoning this little area and that little area that almost no time is left to do any real planning work. That is why the Menlo Park Planning Commission has opened up the whole zoning ordinance, and it hopes that as a result of lengthy hearings it can arrive at a zoning map that can stand unchanged for a considerable period of time.

It was suggested by the Realty Board that the city hire a professioner planner to draft a master plan for Menlo Park. This idea should be given very serious consideration. I am in favor of such expenditures where I can see the city getting its money back with dividends. In our case we have to consider that the area of the city is relatively small, and most of the land use pattern is already established. This is true also of our major street pattern with the exception of the Willow Road extension. Santa Cruz is the main thoroughfare, with El Camino, the Alameda, and Middlefield the cross arteries. The place where new planning is needed is in the undeveloped area beyond the Alameda, as yet outside our city's borders. Further, the city is fortunate in having excellent planning advice already available. Our planning advisor has done technical work for both the State and local planning commissions. Our city engineer has been subdivision engineer on many large and outstanding planned communities, and has worked closely with professional planners. Our city manager has served on the County planning commission.

The present rezoning of the city is not much more than a revision and rationalization of the present zoning boundaries. It is not in itself a new land use pattern, but consists only of minor alterations of boundaries to anticipate future reasonable rezoning requests and to zone upward some areas which are at present under-zoned in relation to the present character of land development. For this reason it seems more logical that the residents of the city rather than professional planners determine exactly the extent to which the present boundaries are changed.

I do not know who sent me the Recorder of February 6, 1948, nor who wrote its lead editorial. I do know I am glad to have seen it.

Whoever wrote "The Worthy Traditions" had a nice sense of the flow of time, and of the importance of fitting events into a framework of solid history. That person also put his finger precisely on the core of Stanford's greatness: the fact that ideals transcend the instruments through which they work, and that men capable of interpreting them have more than once walked at the head of the Stanford procession.

The plea (reported in your issue of Feb. 6,) of P.G. and E. that they are the helpless pawns of the California Railway Commission roused the risibilities of several readers who have observed the stubborn, even passionate resistance of P.G. and E. to the development of Central Valley.

P.G. and E. has stalled the intelligent plans to give California adequate water and power, until now they are running at capacity production and unable even to provide enough juice to run electric clocks, while commuters miss trains and busses.

It takes a crisis like the present one to make people recognize the forces responsible for the dangerous lack of water and power in California.

People of Europe Need Shoes Desparately; Send Any Kind Americans Wear, Old or New

From AUSTRIA, from GERMANY, from FINLAND, from ALL OVER EUROPE, comes the desperate plea for shoes.

Great hordes of people in Europe have gone shoeless through snow and freezing cold this winter, because livestock has been slaughtered, there are no tanning materials, there is no money for imports, no money to buy even if there were shoes to buy.

Children have outgrown and outworn their shoes; grownups have walked sometimes a hundred miles to return to their homes, arriving often with only rags tied about their bleeding, swollen feet.

Fathers and mothers are hampered in their work or search for work by lack of shoes. How can a man hold his job in winter if he must walk through the snow or slush with his feet tied up in rags? Cold, hungry mothers must stand in ration lines for hours, and often tramp the streets all day long in search of their daily food, regardless of the weather, and mothers must try to keep well to take care of their children!

KINDS OF SHOES NEEDED: for children, any shoes an American child wears, including tennis shoes. When buying winter shoes, remember however, that Europe's winter is cold and snowy, and high shoes are more practical than oxfords. For older boys and girls; sport shoes, oxfords, tennis shoes, wide widths.

For men: any shoe an American would wear, especially heavy work shoes for working men. (Army shoes are good.) Do not send narrow shoes unless requested. McLoughlin's Shoe Store on El Camino Real has an excellent window display this week of shoes suitable for Europe.

For women: low and cuban heels preferred, in wide widths. Many European women need much wider shoes than are usually worn here, so when buying shoes, look for the wide comfortable sizes. When a person has gone barefooted for some time the foot spreads, and narrow shoes can torture, rather than comfort your friends.

Shoes may be either new or second hand. Used shoes should have new soles and heels when necessary; a shine adds to their attractiveness; new laces for each pair and a can of shoe polish tucked inside helps.

One way to find approximate shoe sizes of your friends overseas is to ask them to sit down, place foot on a paper and draw a pencil outline of their larger foot, adding their European size. With this in hand you may choose shoes large enough; if too large, insoles of cardboard may be added, or a pair to fit may be sent with the shoes. (A chart of European and corresponding American sizes will follow later.) If you don't know what size to send, and the shoes do not fit your friends, they have ways to exchange shoes over there.

If you can possibly do so, please send goloshes or rubbers to fit the shoes. If that is impossible, send a tube of shoe grease—a leather preservative and waterproofing material, excellent to include with all shoes.

Problems of Normal Child To Be Subject of Lecture

"Juvenile delinquency and the problems of children are constantly in the news, but what of the normal child?"

This is the question on the announcement of a lecture by George Sheviokov, of the San Francisco State College, to be given next Friday night, Feb. 27, in the Council Chambers of the San Mateo City Hall at 8:15.

The lecture, with admission charge of 50c for members and 75c for nonmembers, is presented by the Mental Hygiene Society of Northern California, an organization of psychiatrists, social workers, doctors, teachers, nurses and others devoted to the purpose of greater puolic education on mental health. Several members of the society live in Menlo Park.

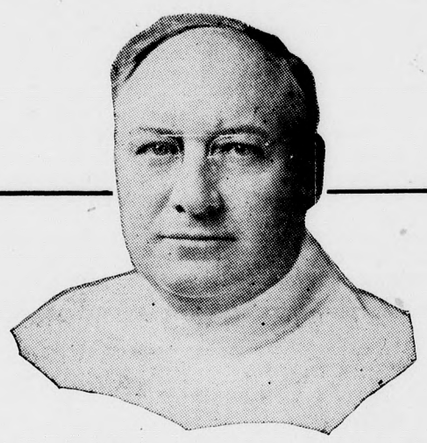

Red Cross Goal Is $38,000

Quota set for the Sequoia Chapter of the American Red Cross for its 1948 drive for funds is $38,000. The goal was announced this week by John Ball, general chairman of the campaign. The national quota is $75,000,000.

The Sequoia Chapter was formerly the Menlo Park-Atherton branch and the Redwood City branch. The two organizations joined last year.

Of the $38,000 quota, $6,600 will go toward the national goal, Ball said. The remaining $31,400 will be used for local requirements.

Mr. Ball said that in addition to its disaster, blood and veterans programs, the Red Cross will continue to stress international activities, military camp and hospital programs and community education in home nursing, nutrition, water safety, accident prevention and first aid.

Nerve Pressure Causes Sickness

We Learn from Modern Science:

If the flow of nerve energy to any organ or any other part of the body is blocked or slowed down by nerve pressure in the spine—that part of the body will develop disease.

To the rational mind this is a very important subject.

Three vital questions are frequently raised:

Q. 1. How is nerve pressure diagnosed and treated?
A. By a skilled Doctor of Chiropractic with the assistance of scientific implements.
Q. 2. What are some of the scientific implements used by Doctors of Chiropractic in the diagnosis and treatment of nerve pressure?
A. One is the well-known Neurocalometer, a scientific mechanical instrument used in measuring body resistance heat at the point of nerve pressure. Another is the X-Ray equipment which provides both the doctor and the patient with a true photograph of the location of the offending obstruction.
Q. 3. What are some of the findings?
A. Usually the obstructions causing nerve pressure are found to be maladjusted vertebrae, particularly the vertebra at the top of the spine called the atlas.

Most important to the rational person, however, are the scientific training and skill of the competent Doctor of Chiropractic whose diagnoses and treatments result in the removal of nerve pressure, thus restoring the normal flow of nerve energy.

Nerve pressure must be removed before complete health will return!

Business and Professional Women To Organize Menlo Park Chapter

Responding to an invitation from a few business women of Menlo Park who wished to learn more about the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, two officers of the State organization spoke to a small group here on Tuesday night.

Miss Lelah Butts, state membership chairman, outlined the objectives of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, recalled the history of the organization and described its present national and international scope. The Club slogan, said Miss Butts, is "A better business woman for a better business world", and now there are 150,000 women in America dedicated to this end with over 10,000 of them living in California.

Thelma Eberhardt (Mrs. W. H. Eberhardt), who is state treasurer of the Federation, made her discussion of the Club's activities more personal as she described the individual business and social gatherings of local groups, who, at all times, work primarily for the betterment of conditions for business women.

Miss Butts and Mrs. Eberhardt both live in Redwood City as does also Mrs. Nelle Miramontes of the Redwood City Club who told the group of the pleasures she enjoyed in her many years' affiliation with Business and Professional Women's Clubs, always finding herself "at home" in any city where a group was organized.

Of special interest to the listeners were the words of Mrs. Emma Stribling, owner of Lucelle's Dress Shop, who has been a member of the Club for many years. She told of her enjoyment of the group and of the many life long friends she had made through the organization. She invited those at the meeting, and all others who may read of the anticipated Menlo Park organization through the press, to meet at her store, 1001 El Camino Real, on Thursday evening, March 4th at 8 o'clock, at which time more definite plans for starting a chapter in this area will be discussed.

All business women, whether employer or employed, are eligible for membership in the Business and Professional Women's Club, and all will be welcomed at this meeting.

Las Lomitas Party To Benefit Spastics

Proceeds from the Benefit Party, given by the Las Lomitas PTA this evening at the school, will go to "El Portal School for Spastics" and to the "Sight-saving School of Northern California."

Meeting at 7:30, the evening will be given to games and refreshments with tickets costing but 25 cents.

Mrs. Garland Returns Home

Mrs. J. J. Garland, 1325 Middle avenue, returns from Chicago today after attending a meeting of officers of the National PTA organization. Mrs. Garland, who has frequently been guest speaker at local PTA meetings, is a regional Vice President.

H. & H. Food Store On Valparaiso Ave. To Hold Opening

Today is "Grand Opening" for the H. and H. Market, out near the Alameda. Murray L. Henage and Don W. Howland (H. and H.) recently purchased the grocery and market on the corner of Valparaiso and Frank's Lane. They have remodeled the store and put in new lines of merchandise, with the intention of giving their customers the same merchandise at the same prices that prevail in the center of town. The market, except the butcher shop, will be open seven days a week, from 8 to 7.

Murray Henage is married and has two children. Don Howland expects to be married this Easter time after which he will make his home in Menlo Park. Henage has had 13 years' experience in the business and Howland 7 years. Jerry Fox, the butcher, has been in his business for 19 years.

Airline Dispatchers Spend Day at Edwards' Home

Ten Airline dispatchers and their assistants spent a day last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Edwards, 545 Morey Drive, Menlo Park. The men were called for a business meeting and conference by Mr. Edwards, who is a United Airline Dispatcher, from Denver, Los Angeles, Seattle and San Francisco.

The "session" lasted a full day so that Mrs. Edwards, who is a licensed pilot and enthusiastic flyer, came in for a share of the "doings". She served a buffet luncheon to the visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward, better known as Eddie and Penny, are president and treasurer of the Los Altos Flying Club. This is a small club of ten members (with openings for a few more) who jointly own a Swift which they keep hangared at the Palo Alto Air Port. Members of the club are all licensed pilots living on the Peninsula. The Swift is used for sport, mostly cross country flying. Penny Edwards was an airline stewardess before her marriage, so she has long been at home in the air.

Mrs. Marie Maloney Recovering From Operation

Mrs. Marie Maloney, 689 University Drive, returned Monday from Palo Alto Hospital following a serious operation.

She had been in the hospital for a week. She said Tuesday she was "feeling much better."

Injured Pupil Goes Back To School

Robert Sterling, the third grade boy who was struck by a car while crossing El Camino Real in front of Central School last week, returned to his classes Tuesday morning.

Robert wasn't injured seriously. His hurts were confined to bruises and cuts, except that a day or two after the accident, he started seeing double, and the doctor explained that he had suffered a slight concussion. His normal sight returned three days later.

Mr. and Mrs. Gail Sterling, Robert's parents, this week expressed thanks to "the people of Menlo for their kindness, to the police force and Chief George Potter for doing everything in their power to prevent accidents at the crossing", to Mrs. R. E. Messini, who took Robert to the hospital and to the Rev. and Mrs. O. P. Bishop of the Menlo Park Baptist Church "who were very kind".

John Frederic Kline, of La Honda, driver of the car that hit the eight-year-old boy, had pleaded guilty to reckless driving involving an injury and driving through a school traffic light. He will be sentenced next week by City Judge Edward J. Ryan

Another Dance To Be Held

While old fashioned dances are becoming more and more popular throughout the country, so far as known the dances sponsored by the Menlo Park PTA, held at Central School, are the only ones that place the emphasis upon "family" attendance.

The second dance, held last Friday, proved as enjoyable as the first, so a third dance program will be held on next Friday evening, February 27, at Central School. Ray Menake and his "three-boy orchestra" helped greatly to make the barn dance a jolly affair. They will be with the group again.

One attendant observed that it was certainly a joy to see children, parents and teachers dancing the simple steps together.

Federal Employes To Open Office For Taxpayers

The following notice to taxpayers of Menlo Park and vicinity was received at the RECORDER yesterday, coming from the Internal Revenue Service of the Treasury Department.

Deputies E. J. Hudson and Miss Grace A. Lyddane of the Internal Revenue Service will open an office in the Bank of America, Menlo Park, February 25, 26 and 27, between 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m., for the convenience of federal income taxpayers.

They will also serve Veterans' Facility at Palo Alto on February 23 and 24 between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

Marie Antoinette To Open Tuesday With New Owners

Marie Antoinette, which has been closed for the past two weeks, will open under new management next Tuesday, February 24. Owners are Lester C. Colgate of Palo Alto and Peter H. Keber of San Mateo. Both men have had experience in Peninsula restaurants.

Mr. Colegate and Mr. Keber announce that they intend to feature "good food at reasonable cost with excellent service." They do their own baking and, as they expect to cater to parties, hope to have the opportunity to furnish cakes free for special occasions.

No liquor is served in the Marie Antoinette which makes it appeal as a place for family dinners—with the children.

Mrs. Kratt Entertains 50 Sorority Alumnae

On Wednesday evening of last week Mrs. William E. Kratt was hostess to a group of fifty women at her home at Menlo Junior College. The occasion was a gathering of the San Jose-Peninsula Alumnae of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority.

The meeting was both a social and a business one. New officers of the sorority were elected.

Boys Scout News Girls

Tonight at 7 p.m. there will be a Pot Luck Dinner and Chowder Party of Pack 5 of the Menlo Park Cubs at the Church of the Nativity Hall on Oak Grove avenue.

Ben G. Holland, chairman of entertainment, together with den mothers, Mrs. Dwight Adams, Mrs. William B. Wright, Mrs. W. H. Sharon and Mrs. W. K. Tibby, will take over the work of making this a successful evening for this Cub event.

Den 1 will conduct opening ceremonies and Harry Morey wil take over as master of ceremonies.

It will be a "Father and Son Dinner" for boys of Atherton Cub Pack 63 when they meet next Thursday night at 6:30 in Las Lomitas School. Entertainment for the evening will be moving pictures, with sound. Special event will be the graduation of two cubs. Warren Proctor will be taken into Scout Troop No. 7 under Floyd Beach and Dickie Rich will enter Troop 163 under Theodore Brown.

Cubs of Pack 63 are still dreaming of the wonderful day recently when they were entertained by Pan American Airways: lunch in the air (on a two hour flight) and a tour of the entire grounds.

Mrs. Harold Heakin, Chairman of the Menlo Park-Atherton Girl Scouts is asking all dads to stand by on Saturday, February 28 so that Leaders and Co-Leaders of Brownie and Intermediate troops may meet for tea from 2 until 4 at her home on Santa Cruz and Sand Hill Road.

Plans for Girl Scout Week, March 6th to 12th, will be discussed, and a coordinated program for the area will be planned. Since this is the first get-together of all the leaders for the year, Mrs. Heakin is inviting all adult Girl Scouts and hopes as many as possible will come bringing plenty of suggestions and problems to be thrashed out.

* * *

Mrs. B. J. Clifford; Mrs. Edward Melon, Mrs. Henry Ward and Mrs. George Naylor will bring "nose bag" lunches to the Brownie Leader Training Course which starts at 10 o'clock on Tuesday, February 24th at the Menlo Park Prebyterian Church Social Hall. Intermediate Leader training will be at the same times at the San Carlos Recreation Center.

Since there are still many hopeful youngsters waiting for leaders so that they may be Girl Scouts too, any women interested in giving a small slice of time to the young people of the community are urged to get in touch with the Girl Scout office in Redwood City or to call Mrs. Heakin at P. A. 2-4562 as there is still time to enroll for the course.

Yesterday a brand new Brownie troop was born at the Polhemus avenue home of Mrs. Ray Johnson in Atherton. Mrs. Johnson has turned over the use of the attractive Ceramic House built by Mr. Alfred Sutro for the use of the girls who are not affiliated with any of the troops established at the cshools. Mrs. B. J. Clifford and Mrs. Edward Melon will lead the troop and there is still room for a few more Brownies-to-be if transportation can be arranged.

Mrs. Milton Silverman.

MP Fine Foods Celebrates Anniversary

Three men could not help but be mightily pleased with the number of callers who crossed their "welcome mat" last Friday and Saturday when M. P. Fine Foods invited everybody to join in the celebration of their tenth anniversary.

Mario Paccioretti, George Terhune and Harold Thompson, partners in the ownership of the two M. P. Fine Food Stores, said that the occasion was "an all-time high" as new customers as well as old friends turned up in droves to take advantage of their specials, and congratulate the proprietors. Many were so fortunate as to take home with them free baskets of groceries, and every child was made happy with a balloon.

James Annands Refuse To Pay $173.58 Plumbing Bill, Claim City Engineer Said MP Would 'Take Care of It'

Mr. and Mrs. James Annand, 925 Roble Ave., have notified the Menlo Park City Council that they won't pay a $173.58 plumbing bill for replacing and repairing the sewer lateral in front of their home.

The charge is due to become a lien against their property.

They claim the sewer lateral was damaged, while the street was being paved this fall, by employees of either the California Water Service Co. or L. C. Smith, paving contractor.

"The sewer was working all right beforehand," Annand exclaimed "I'm in no way responsible for it. I won't pay it."

The Anannds said they called a plumber when the sewer was broken a second time after being fixed once by the California Water Service Co.

When it was opened, every piece of pipe from the street to the house was found to be telescoped, the Annands declared. They claimed the damage was done by a bull-dozer which hit the pipe.

Mrs. Annand told the plumber to leave the line uncovered until she called representatives of all agencies that might be responsible. She wanted them to view the trouble and determine who was to blame.

City Eng. Ed Smith stopped to inspect the work, she told a reporter and Smith told the plumber to "go ahead and fix it; the city will take care of it."

Later the Annands received the bill from the plumbers, Mackall and Kenney of Palo Alto. They forwarded the bill to the city engineer's office, but it was returned. Now they face legal proceedings, filed by the plumbers, which would make the charge a lien against their property.

The city engineer reluctantly denied that he or his men gave the plumber a green light.

He said, however, that the Annand's sewer connection was old and in such need of repair that a patching job would result in more trouble later. He added that he felt the Annands had a legitimate claim for maybe $25 against the California Water Service Co.

The controversy is another in a series of discussions over who is responsible for maintaining sewer laterals from the main in the street to the house. The Menlo Park Sanitary District contends the responsibility lies with the property owner. The City Council, however, claims the property owner should not be saddled with undue maintenance costs if he is not to blame. The Council is considering taking over service of all sewers in the city except for trunk lines.

Graham, to see if they would pay half the cost of remodeling.

Since last week, the Grahams have raised the rent from $100 per month to $125. However, the county agreed to the raise and the Grahams assented to a five-year lease with option to renew for another five years.

The Menlo avenue duplex is located on a lot approximately 200 feet deep. It has a double garage in front, which could be eliminated Butler said.

The Santa Cruz avenue location was suggested originally by James E. Cooper, former Menlo Park mayor, to Mrs. Wallace Brown, member of the Library Committee. Her husband, Councilman Wallace Brown, relayed the suggestion to Butler

FOR THE ENRICHMENT OF LIFE

Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock:

And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.

And everyone that heareth these sayings of mine and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand:

And the rain descended and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it.

And it came to pass, when Jesus had ended these sayings, the people were astonished at his doctrine.

M. P., Atherton Asked to Contribute Toward Cost of Freedom Train's Visit

Menlo Park and Atherton together have been asked to contribute $600 toward the Palo Alto visit of the Freedom Train, Col. Walter S. Gaspar announced last week. Menlo Park's share is $350; Atherton, $250.

The American Heritage Foundation, sponsor of the train, has run through its $500,000 endowment and California cities have been asked to contribute funds, at the rate of 2c per person, to keep the train going

Michael Spatz, the foundation's area director, estimates that the expedition costs $3,000 per day to maintain, even though the train itself was donated by railroad companies.

Other cities in this area are being asked to contribute toward the $3,000 it will cost to stop the train locally. Palo Alto itself will donate $1,500, or one-half.

Menlo Park and Atherton will furnish police officers for duty at the Freedom Train. The train's visit is scheduled for Wednesday, March 17.

RATIOCINATIONS

LOUIS J. STELLMAN

There is a quality at once sardonic and amusing in what we have taken to calling "a cold war" between Russia and the Western Democracies. The verbal repartee of Mr. Stalin's Press, occasionally become so naive that they are almost sweet. For instance: after the publication of documents linking Soviets and Nazis in a military enterprise to conquer Europe, we have a belated counter-charge from Politbureau editors that, no matter how guilty Russia may seem, England and France were the real villians and that our United States, controlled by Wall Street, was far from an innocent bystander.

It is an old Muscovite habit to oppose proof of misbehavior with accusations of equal wrongdoing. But the tu quoque argument goes back much farther—probably to the Roman Forum where its Latin designation was imposed. When I went to school, if anyone was called a liar, he responded, "You're another," thus admitting his mendacity but announcing that he was at least within the company of peers. More analysis of this retort makes it, by inference, a declaration that, since your accuser is a liar, he presumably lied in calling you one. Thus your dignity and reputation were entirely repaired.

A pertinent example is that of Charles Lindbergh, who made a Hero's tour of Europe not so long before the Hitler outbreak. Having inspected the air-might of both Germany and Russia, he returned to inform an American public, in his tactlessly honest fashion, that the former's was so much superior as to make comparison pitiful. Immediately, the Soviet Press, with little in the way of denial, spat forth personal invective with a fury that proved little but the soreness of the wound. Subsequently Mr. L. refrained from uttering "I told you so."

Now, the Russian lesion chafes again. Drew Middleton, who knows whereof he writes, is giving the Kremlin another hot-foot about its preparedness for war. So the same thing is happening all over. Tass, Izvestia et al are sure to brand their latest critic as the venal tool of Wall Street which, in Russia's journalistic vision, is a Munchausen of the first magnitude. The tu quoque defense, although a trifle decrepit, is still ambulatory.

Let no one assume however, that the Politbureau is without more novel expedient. If the right doesn't land, try the left; so our music is now under fire. Not only ours but the world's, including Russia's—and, perhaps, the Scandinavian. Bourgeois and sordid with Capitalistic ideology, the Kremlin says it "stinks" (that forthright, if indelicate term which Russian emigres have generously planted in our phraseology). So it is not for Ivan. Bigger, better arias and cadenzas soon will greet the world. Soviet composers, purged of the contagion of Democracy, had better bring them out, or else—.

It's difficult to stump the "Commies". If their war equipment is a trifle meager and outdated; if their propaganda cliches have developed fallen arches and are threatened with heart attack there is at least the business of sound sequences and rhythms. . . We haven't heard anything yet!

1800 Newspaper, Carrying Account Of Washington's Burial, Shown Here

With Washington's Birthday coming this was a good time for John C. Brown to bring a copy of the Ulster County Gazette for January 4, 1800 to the Recorder office.

The paper, published at Kingston, N.Y., carries an account of Washington's burial and the grief expressed by Congress and the President at the time of his death on December 14, 1799.

Brown, who lives in Redwood City, built the store on Santa Cruz and El Camino Real now occupied by Ryan's Menlo Park Hardware.

According to the ragged but clear issue of the Gazette, The American Senate expressed its sorrow to President John Adams by saying, in part,

"Permit us, sir, to mingle our tears with yours: on this occasion it is manly to weep . . . Greatness and guilt have too often been allied, but his fame is whiter than it is brilliant. The destroyers of nations stood abashed at the majesty of his virtue.

"Let his countrymen consecrate the memory of the heroic General, the patriotic Statesman, and the victorious Sage; let them teach their children never to forget that the fruits of his labours, and his example are their inheritance."

The President, in his reply, grieved,

"Malice could never blast his honor, and Envy made him a singular exception to her universal rule. —For himself he had lived enough, to life and glory. For his fellow citizens, if their prayers could have been answered, he would have been immortal.

"For me his departure is a most unfortunate moment .Trusting, however, in the wise and righteous dominions of Providence over passions of men, and the result of their councils and actions, as well as over their Lives, nothing remains for me but HUMBLE RESIGNATION."

Three Local Women Honored by Dutch

There are three women of this community who will cherish small porcelain plaques just received for the rest of their lives. The plaques, beautiful pieces of Delft, bearing the inscription (in Dutch), "Holland brings you thanks", depict a dove of peace hovering over the earth, with a background of tulips, oranges, and the red, white and blue of the Netherlands flag.

The plaques, and a personal citation from combined relief and rehabilitation organizations of the Netherlands (signed by Princess Juliana and officials of the organizations), were presented to a number of local persons in recognition of their work done in behalf of the Netherlands during the war by the Hon. F. A. von Woerden at a recent ceremony at the Dutch Consulate in San Francisco.

The three women from this vicinity so honored were Mrs. R. M. Leggett, 335 San Mateo Drive; Mrs. H. van de Griendt, 34 Isabella Ave., Atherton and Mrs. F. L. W. MacDonald, 1171 Valparaiso Ave. Mrs Leggett was chairman of the Peninsula chapter of the Queen Wilhelmina Fund.

Quayle Asks City To Change Name Of Menlo Avenue

The Menlo Park City Council has been asked by Edward Quayle to change the name of Menlo Ave. between Olive and Altschul Aves.

He said that Menlo Ave. skips several blocks between the downtown area and the area where he wants the street name altered. He claimed the break makes it hard for strangers to find addresses.

Quayle himself lives at the corner of El Camino Real and the portion of Menlo Ave. that he would leave unchanged. He said the name should be altered before too many homes are built on the street.

He also expressed the opinion that rounded curbs should not be allowed and that square curbs should be required on all streets for the safety of children.

Mrs. Mary Foley

Mrs. Mary Foley of Menlo Park passed away Saturday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frances Maloney, with whom she has been living the last three years. Mrs. Foley was 97 years old. Her only surviving child is Mrs. Maloney, city treasurer of Menlo Park, but she leaves twelve grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren. Her husband, Patrick Foley, who was for many years an employe of the Southern Pacific, passed away twenty years ago.

Mrs. Foley was a native of Ireland, coming to America soon after the close of the Civil War. The family lived in San Francisco, moving to Burlingame after the earthquake. About twelve years ago Mrs. Foley was in an automobile accident, since when it has been necessary for her to use a cane, but she had not been really ill until the last three weeks before her death.

Mass was said in the Church of the Nativity on Tuesday morning, with the interment later at Holy Cross Cemetery at Colma.

Mrs. Kazansky made the trip against the advice of her doctor who felt that her health would be impaired by the journey. She was pitifully shocked by her son's early death but returned to her daughter's home in the south without a collapse. However her grief proved too great; she was found dead in her bed on Monday morning.
